Aisha Alabbar Gallery Presents:
I Jump – Will I Stick the Landing?
Shama Al Hamed
Curated by Walter Willems
February 4 – April 5 2025

Dubai, [January 21, 2025] – Aisha Alabbar Gallery is proud to announce I Jump – Will I Stick the Landing?, the first solo exhibition by Shama Al Hamed, curated by Walter Willems. This collection of paintings, sculptures, and installations offers a deeply personal exploration of the artist's journey, providing insight into the formative experiences and emotions that have shaped her creative practice and artistic perspective.

In I Jump – Will I Stick the Landing?, Shama uses the metaphor of jumping as a symbol of movement—through time, memory, and emotion. Each leap becomes a reflection of her ongoing efforts to navigate and transcend the spaces that define her, whether driven by joy, individuality, or quiet defiance.

A recurring theme in her work is the integration of architectural patterns, derived from photographs of buildings that framed her childhood. These designs, transformed through repetition and abstraction, evoke defining memories and the influence of physical spaces on her creative vision.

"This body of work is a visual narrative of resilience and transformation," said Shama Al Hamed. "Each piece represents a leap, a moment of searching, and an embrace of the uncertainty that fuels my growth."

I Jump – Will I Stick the Landing? invites viewers to journey through Shama's reflections, navigating memories, thoughts, and dreams. This immersive exhibition is an opportunity to engage with the textures, forms, and patterns that define her work and to consider the leaps we take in our own lives.

This exhibition will be accompanied by a fully illustrated catalogue, offering new insights into the works on display and the broader context in which they exist and will be open to the public from February 4 to April 5, 2025. An opening reception will take place on [February 4, 2025], offering visitors a first look at this new body of work.
